

How to Set Up Alerts in Web of Science (2010)

- Go to Library home page: <http://www.aoml.noaa.gov/general/lib/mockup2.html>
- Select Research Tools
- Select Database and Article Searching
- Scroll to bottom and open “Web of Knowledge”
- (Select “Web of Science” tab > Advanced search.)

- In the search box use Boolean terms such as ‘and’, ‘or,’ ‘not’, ‘same’ and the field tags (given on the right) and make sure to select, “all years” or a range from 1984 to 2010 and document type. Then press search’.

- Results will be shown at the bottom of screen

- Press “Save History/ Create Alert” (I believe to view saved searches, once you exit your current session, you need to first register on the site)
- Make sure to check off “send me e-mail alerts” to have them sent to you directly.

- Once you register you can save your alerts on the Web of Science server. Viewing saved searches allows you to delete, renew, modify, run or combine searches. Opening the RSS feed takes you to a title list for those search terms with links to citation and abstract.

- You can also save you searched to your local PC.

- Below is an example of an author search for “Landsea C” with 44 results. Clicking on the result number will show details ie title, authors, source and times cited.
